I have talked about the power of commenting before. I began to stop commenting on so many blogs once I thought I had enough subscribers. However, my subscriber count began to not go up and instead I was losing subscribers. Maybe you feel like you are not gaining subscribers right now or you are not getting enough traffic to your blog. Well, what I did just Thursday and Friday will fix both of those things.

This is probably the easiest tip that you'll ever hear and you probably have heard it before. Comment on any blogs that are similar to your niche. They do not have to be the exact same as your niche but somewhat similar. I did this for two days and I gained 200 subscribers. This honestly can be you also.

Here Was My Comment Strategy

- Find as many blogs as possible that have the same niche as mine or a similar niche.
- Make sure that each blog has over 100 subscribers so that you know that you can get traffic.
- Whenever there is a new post on any of those blogs make sure to comment. You'll want to make sure to use a feed reader like Google so that you know when each blog has an update.
- Try to comment as quick as possible so that you'll be seen by all other commenters.
- Make sure to at least write three sentences or more so that you add to the post. You don't want to look like a comment spammer.

That is all I did and I was able to gain 200 subscribers in those two days. Of course you need to make sure that you have good content so that people will want to subscribe your blog. But writing great content isn't that difficult so I'm sure you are already doing that. If you do these things I'm positive that you will up your subscriber count.
